2009 CONTRIBUTIONS TO QUALIFYING CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS TAX CREDIT: A SUMMARY OF ACTIVITY

Arizona Revised Statute §43-1088 provides a non-refundable income tax credit for cash contributions made to qualifying charitable organizations (QCOs), commonly known as the working poor tax credit. The QCO provides help to Arizona residents who receive temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) benefits, low income residents, or to chronically ill or physically disabled children.

A QCO is a charity that is exempt from federal income tax under Internal Revenue Code §501(c)(3) or a community action agency that receives community services block grant program monies. These QCOs must spend at least 50% of their budget on services to Arizona residents who either receive TANF benefits, are low income residents whose household income is less than 150% of the federal poverty level, or are chronically ill or physically disabled children. The QCO must plan to continue spending at least 50% of its budget on those services. The services must be provided and used in Arizona. The charity must provide the Arizona Department of Revenue (ADOR) with a written certification that it meets all criteria to be considered a QCO. ADOR determines eligibility and maintains tax year specific lists of QCOs on the Department's website.

This report provides detailed information on tax year 2009 for the working poor tax credit. Data is compiled from taxpayer returns reported to ADOR during calendar year 2010.

The Working Poor Tax Credit as it Existed in 2009

This credit is available only to individuals.<sup>1</sup> The credit is equal to the cash contribution made to the QCO up to $200 for a single or head of household taxpayer and up to $400 for married filing joint return taxpayer.<sup>2</sup> If the allowable tax credit is more than an individual's tax or if there is no tax liability, the unused portion of the credit can be carried forward for up to the next five consecutive taxable years' income tax liability. In order to claim a current year or a carryover credit in 2009, a taxpayer must claim itemized deductions on their Arizona return filed for the year in which the credit is claimed. A taxpayer may not claim both a tax credit and an Arizona itemized deduction for the amount of contributions made to a QCO.

Taxpayers report on a tax year basis to ADOR the name of QCO and the amount donated on Arizona Form 321. Arizona Form 321 is completed when taxpayers file their Arizona tax return.

Prior Year and Future Iterations of the Working Poor Tax Credit

In recent years, the working poor tax credit has undergone legislative changes that have affected taxpayers and organizations able to become QCOs. Beginning with tax year 2009 the baseline requirement was eliminated for taxpayers. The baseline requirement mandated that taxpayers have itemized deductions and deducted charitable contributions on a prior years Arizona return (1996 or later) at least once in order to establish a baseline year and amount. The credit amount equaled amounts over and above the baseline amount. This legislation also required QCOs to prove to ADOR that they met all statutory criteria. Prior to the change QCOs self-certified their eligibility.

Effective August 2012, legislation required each organization to affirm that they do not provide, pay for, or provide coverage of abortions and they do not financially support any other entity that provides, pays for, or provides coverage of abortions in order to be a QCO. Legislation enacted in 2013 removed the requirement that a taxpayer itemize in order to claim the tax credit. Also, taxpayers choosing to donate to the newly designated qualified foster care charitable organization (QFCO) may claim up to $400 or $800 depending on filing status.

The 2009 Review

The dollar impact of the credit is presented two ways, by total credit available and total contributions. Total credit available is the actual amount of credit claimed on the taxpayers return, generally limited to the $200/$400 threshold. Total credit available is also the sum of what was used in the current tax year and what is carried forward to future years. For purposes of the report, total credit available and total claimed are used interchangeably. Total contributions indicate total credit available plus any donation amount to a QCO over the allowed $200/$400 credit available to taxpayers. Thus, if a married filing joint taxpayer contributed $500, the total amount is reflected as 'total contributions' below.

49,915 taxpayers claimed the working poor tax credit in tax year (TY) 2009. In total, taxpayers claimed $13,556,228 in working poor tax credit and taxpayers were able to utilize 95.1% of the credit available to them in TY 2009. Taxpayers claimed an average credit of $272. Carryover for TY 2009 totaled $666,333 and could be used for the next five consecutive taxable years. Taxpayers reported $9,538,930 in donations that were not eligible to be claimed as a tax credit as it exceeded the allowable $200/$400 threshold. The $9,538,930 only reflects taxpayers who contributed an excess amount and chose to report the excess amount. DOR is not able to determine if a taxpayer contributed more than the threshold and chose to report only the allowed maximum of $200/$400. It is probable that total contributions of $23,095,158 are less than the total actually contributed. The following table lists the total number of claims, credit available, used, and total contributions.

Number of	Total Credit	Total Used	Carry	Ave	erage	Total

By filing status, married filing joint taxpayers claimed 34,955 of the total 49,915 claims or 70.0% of all working poor tax credit claims. By dollars claimed, MFJ taxpayers claimed $11,025,154 of the total $13,556,228 credit available or 81.3% of all working poor tax credit dollar claims. By filing status, married filing separate taxpayers used the greatest percentage of the credit available to them in TY 2009 at 95.9%. The following table lists by filing status the total number of claims, credit available, and total contributions.

Since its inception in 1998, the working poor tax credit has experienced consistent growth in terms of the number of taxpayer claims and dollar claims. In 1998, the number of working poor tax credit claims totaled 2,894 with total credit available of $481,037. The table below indicates the number of taxpayer claims, credit available, and total contributions since 1998. For some tax years total contribution and carry forward is not available.

The following graph illustrates that the working poor credit has experienced consistent growth above 10% annually in terms of the number of claims and total credit available each year since 1998. For 2007, the claim drop is a data flaw; it would be reasonable to presume consistent growth in that year as well.

Arizona Department of Revenue, Office of Economic Research & Analysis, October 2013

Tax return data provides other pertinent information about the type of taxpayer who claims a working poor tax credit. The following taxpayer data presents an average and also a median for each type of data. In general, the median attempts to eliminate outliers. Analyzing all 49,915 taxpayers indicates an average Federal Adjusted Gross Income (FAGI) of $165,778 and a median FAGI of $104,783. As a comparison, an analysis of Arizona resident taxpayer return data from TY 2009 indicates an average FAGI of $50,699. Thus, a working poor tax credit claimant has an average FAGI over three times greater than the Arizona FAGI average. Working poor tax credit claimants have an average tax liability of $4,338 and a median tax liability of $1,893. The previously mentioned Arizona resident data indicates an average liability of $1,382. Taxpayers who claimed a working poor tax credit also had average itemized deductions of $35,182, tax liability of $4,338, and total non-refundable credits claimed of $821. The data suggests taxpayers still had balances of tax due even after claiming non-refundable credits. The following table provides FAGI, itemized deductions, tax liability, and total non-refundable credits claimed by filing status.

Consistent with expectations, taxpayers with higher FAGI's claimed on average a greater amount of working poor tax credit. Higher FAGI income groups also have modest to no carry forward, indicating they have greater tax liability than non-refundable credit claims. For total contributions reported, FAGI groups from the $10,000-$19,999 and $1,000,000+ have roughly the same number of taxpayer claims. Yet, those from the $1,000,000+ group report more than 13 times the amount of contributions given than the $10,000-$19,999 group. The following table provides credit available, carry forward, total contributions, and the number of claims by FAGI groups.

Taxpayer data can also be aggregated by zip code. The zip code listed is where the taxpayer lived during the time they filed their Arizona individual income tax return. It may not indicate where the taxpayer lived when they made their qualifying cash contribution to the QCO. In 2009, 809 zip codes reported claiming a working poor credit. Of those 809 zip codes, some are claimed from outside of Arizona. The working poor tax credit can be claimed by a person not currently living in Arizona at the time they file their taxes.

Data was aggregated by zip code to determine where taxpayers who claimed a working poor tax credit lived. Total available credit claims for TY 2009 were $13,556,228. Zip code 85718, located in Tucson, had the greatest total dollar claims at $413,578 or 3.1% of all total available taxpayer claims. The $413,578 total available was claimed by 1,403 taxpayers for an average claim of $295. Of the 809 zip codes reporting a working poor tax credit available the top 20 are shown below. All of the top 20 reporting zip codes are located in the Phoenix metropolitan area or Tucson. As a group, the top 20 reported credit available of $4,259,303 or 31.4% of all credit available. The following table provides number of taxpayer claims, average, zip codes and cities ranked 1-20 by total available credit.

Appendix 1 lists by zip code the total available credit, the number of claims and the average taxpayer claim for any zip code reporting ten or more taxpayer credit claims. Zip codes reporting ten or more taxpayer credit claims totaled 273, with 536 zip codes reporting less than ten taxpayer credit claims.

The top 20 zip codes by total contributions were also determined, with zip code 85253 reporting the greatest contributions of $877,974 or 3.8% of all reported contributions. All of the top 20 reporting zip codes are located in the Phoenix metropolitan area or Tucson. The top 20 zip codes by total contributions predominantly mimic the top 20 zip codes of total available credit claimed. As a group, the top 20 zip codes reported total contributions of $8,526,006 or 36.9% of all total contributions. From 1998 through 2009 organizations certified themselves to be able to receive cash donations as part of the working poor tax credit program. In tax year 2009, 806 organizations were listed on the ADOR website as QCOs. When reporting on AZ Credit Form 321 the taxpayer reports the name of the QCO and the amount of the contribution. In 2009 taxpayers were able to list two QCOs and attach a schedule if they donated to more than two QCOs.

During TY 2009, 557 QCOs received donations claimed on the 2009 Arizona individual income tax return. Of the total available credit, two QCO's received over $1 million dollars in contributions for TY 2009, United Way and St. Mary's Food Bank. United Way received $1,388,886 and St. Mary's Food Bank received $1,131,386 in monies that qualified for the tax credit. For TY 2009 these two QCO's received 18.6% of all total available tax credit donations. The following table provides a top 20 list of QCOs who received the most donations that qualified for the tax credit. As a combined group these 20 QCOs have taxpayer claims of $7,459,838 or 55.0% of all credit available. The number of taxpayer claims and average is also provided. The number of claims is higher than 49,915 due to the fact that taxpayers are able to donate to more than one QCO.

Appendix 2 lists by QCO the total available credit, the number of claims, and the average taxpayer claim for a QCO that has ten or more reported taxpayer credit claims. There are 307 QCOs which have ten or more taxpayer credit claims. Those with less than ten taxpayer credit claims and those where a QCO is not known are combined in a summary line. Appendix 3 lists the 250 QCOs which received less than ten taxpayer credit claims.

In TY 2009, 19 of 806 eligible QCOs received more than $100,000 in donations eligible for a credit. This indicates that a small number of QCOs receive a disproportionate amount of total contributions. The following table groups the number of QCOs where taxpayers have claimed a credit for their contribution by a range of total available credit.

QCO data can also be analyzed by the total contributions made to a QCO. This includes all donations made to a QCO, even donations not eligible for a tax credit. St. Mary's Food Bank received the most cash contributions of $2,249,081 or 9.7% of all reported contributions. In general, all of the top 20 QCOs are located in the Phoenix metropolitan area or Tucson. The top 20 list of total contributions by QCO predominantly mimics the top 20 list of total available credit claimed. As a combined group the top 20 reported total contributions of $12,799,519 or 55.4% of all total contributions. The following table provides the top 20 QCOs ranked by total contributions.
